i. Quality of teaching for all
Desired outcome	Chosen action / approach	What is the evidence and rationale for this choice?	How will you ensure it is implemented well?	Staff lead	When will you review implementation?
Stronger progress	Quality first teaching/developing consistently good and outstanding class teachers CPD/peer support meetings for support staff focussed on teaching and learning and metacognitive practices Volunteer programme	Meta-cognition and self-regulation approaches (sometimes known as 'learning to learn' approaches) aim to help learners think about their own learning more explicitly. High impact with very low cost Individualising instruction and planning involves providing different tasks for each learner and support at the individual level. Moderate impact for low cost. (Education Endowment Foundation)	Lesson Observations Pupil Perception surveys Pupil Progress monitoring Appraisal INSET Resourced Current Provision tables and intervention records Pupil Progress tracking	Assessment Teachers Pupil Progress JC/IR Appraisal JC SENDCo GY Planning Teachers	Half termly pupil progress reviews Appraisals Oct/ Feb/May Lesson Observations Termly Meetings
Confident and independent learning behaviours	Ethos and approach to impact positive emotional well being Support to participate in extracurricular activities and visits and outdoor physical activity High quality feedback Personalised planning Support with self and peer assessment Access to outdoor learning as part of curriculum to develop learning behaviours	Collaborative learning done well is of moderate impact with low cost Approaches which promote talk and interaction between learners tend to result in the best gains Feedback is of high impact for low cost. Feedback redirects or refocuses either the teacher's or the learner's actions to achieve a goal, by aligning effort and activity with an outcome. It can be about the learning activity itself, about the process of activity, about the student's management of their learning or self-regulation or (the least effective) about them as individuals. This feedback can be verbal, written, or can be given through tests or via digital technology. It can come from a teacher or someone taking a teaching role, or from peers. (Education and Endowment	Book Scrutiny Celebration of achievements Good parent partnership Pupil Perception Lesson Observation INSET Resourced PAFS tracking Attendance tracking	Monitoring SLT and Govs PAFS IR	Half termly pupils progress reviews JC Appraisal reviews JC Pupil Perception IR

Full access to curricular and extracurricular activities with positive social integration Behaviour /attitudes managed to reduce negative impact on own and others' learning Parents and carers supported to get back on track with a focus on child's education, health and safety	Pupil and Family Support Metacognitive classrooms Support to access extracurricular activities Creative curriculum planning Designated roles and responsibilities for pupils Regular CPD for all staff re inclusion Transition / joint working between pre school/school Systems in place for early Intervention Assess plan do review approach to supporting and monitoring intervention and support Partnership with other agencies High quality visits and visitors	On average, SEL interventions have an identifiable and significant impact on attitudes to learning, social relationships in school, and attainment itself (four months' additional progress on average).Although SEL interventions almost always improve emotional or attitudinal outcomes, not all interventions are equally effective at raising attainment. Improvements appear more likely when approaches are embedded into routine educational practices, and supported by professional development and training for staff. In addition, the implementation of the programme and the degree to which teachers are committed to the approach appear to be important.SEL programmes appear to benefit disadvantaged or low-attaining pupils more than other pupils, though all pupils benefit on average. Approaches have been found to be effective from nursery to secondary school. There is evidence that working with CAs can lead to improvements in pupils' attitudes, and also to positive effects in terms of teacher morale and reduced stress. Research which focuses on classroom assistants who provide one to one or small group support shows a stronger positive benefit of between three and five additional months on average (EEF) Evidence suggests that, on average, behaviour interventions can produce moderate improvements in academic performance along with a decrease in problematic behaviours. However, estimated benefits vary widely across the categories of programme described above. Effect sizes are larger for targeted interventions matched to specific students with particular needs or behavioural issues, than for universal interventions or whole school strategies. School-level behaviour approaches are often associated with improvements in attainment, but the evidence of a causal link to learning is lacking. Approaches such as improving teachers' behaviour management and pupils' cognitive and social skills seem to be equally effective. (EEF) Parental and community involvement programmes are often associated with reported improvements in school ethos or discipline and so are worth considering as alternatives to direct behaviour interventions. On average, early years interventions have an impact of five additional months' progress, and appear to be particularly beneficial for children from low income families (EEF)	Attendance monitoring and reporting – pupil asset  Governor monitoring	JC IR JP  DF	HT reports to governors termly

ii. Targeted support

The progress, attainment and wellbeing of individual pupil premium children and other vulnerable groups will be focussed on as an essential part of weekly staff meetings between the headteacher and individual teachers. Support will also be provided through Respectrum Advisory Services, Children Services, Designated Safeguarding Leads, Assessment Lead and Governors. Data informs appraisal, provision mapping, self-evaluation, school improvement planning and feedback to parents and agencies. Support aims to be dynamic and relevant to the needs of individuals and groups at all times. The school aims to sustain a 'team around the child' approach.
