moon bears are in grave danger and I wish to persuade you to get one moon bear. One trapped in cages not fed and you have got to face the risk of extinction. They live in open woodlands where they could get extinct. The people who are trying to get rid of moon bears need to stop and think again.

There are many sad facts like their claws and teeth get removed. They even have vicarious traps. There are also many reasons to adopt to rehabilitate. Moon bears luckily they can have food not often they do but they eat herbivorous, leaves, twigs from over 100 different trees shrubs as well as grass and fruits.

They live in open woodlands, wooded grasslands and savannah. Their location is mostly in eastern and southern Africa, although in small and island populations and central Africa. They also get a high pack and adoption programme. There's also some ^{recreation} exhalation. And it's only 30 pounds a month. It's a big deal help moon bears and both free. Moon bears are malaise centres. They are also excellent. Sometimes they can be vicarious. They also can have a best temper.

☺ You give some good reasons why we should adopt a moon bear.
